1 Introduction

This is a paragraph. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Nunc vitae nunc at eros imperdiet rutrum. Curabitur in mollis nibh, a interdum dolor. Proin id sapien molestie, tincidunt dui et, varius tortor. Integer ut sagittis justo, sit amet molestie quam.

This is the next paragraph, separated by a blank line in the source file. Morbi mattis elit sit amet elit rhoncus, sit amet iaculis ante fermentum. Integer et bibendum odio. Donec ac risus a leo viverra tempus. Suspendisse id ex nisl. Line returns without a blank line do not create a new paragraph!

You can emphasize words like so. Do not use bold face or underline. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetur adipiscing elit. Nunc vitae nunc at eros imperdiet rutrum. Curabitur in mollis nibh, a interdum dolor. Proin id sapien molestie, tincidunt dui et, varius tortor. Integer ut sagittis justo, sit amet molestie quam. Integer pulvinar viverra turpis, in faucibus magna rhoncus quis. In tincidunt in libero vel mollis. Aenean tincidunt rutrum scelerisque.

2 Methods

You may want to list little chunks of code, like this:

n = 10;
f = n;
while n > 1
    n = n-1;
    f = f*n;
end
```

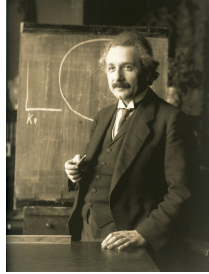

Figure 1: Albert Einstein

If you would like to include formulas in your text, this is something  $\text{\LaTeX}$  is very good at:

$$E = mc^2. \tag{1}$$

Make sure to explain variables and terms in equations; for example, in Equation 1,  $E$  is energy,  $m$  is the mass of an object, and  $c$  is the speed of light.

3 Results

Use figures like Figure 1 to bring across your point. In most cases it is fine to let  $\text{\LaTeX}$  handle the placement of figures. By default, they will be placed at the top or bottom of a page so that it fits best with the rest of the document.
